Mountfield Group PLC ("Group")

Further Contract Wins at Mountfield

Mountfield Group plc (LSE: MOGP), a leading provider of specialist building services primarily in the area of data centre building and refurbishment, announces today that it has been awarded new contracts with an aggregate value of £8.2m. These include new data centre fit-outs and a large-scale national IT facility upgrade. These contracts are in addition to the contracts worth more than £5m that were announced in May this year.

In total the Group has secured work in the first half of this year worth more than £14m. By comparison, at this time last year, the Group had £3.5m of secured orders. This is further evidence of the increased buoyancy in the data centre sector of the construction market.

It is expected that almost half of the value of the most recent contracts will be realised in this financial year and combining these new contracts with the other contracts that have already been secured they provide the Group with a strong pipeline for completion through 2011 and a robust start to 2012.

Commenting on the wins, Graham Read, CEO of Mountfield Group plc said: "Our reputation as a specialist builder for data centres has put us in a prime position to win these and a number of other contracts that we are currently pursuing. These contract wins represent a small part of the work that we are bidding for and I am pleased to say that our hit rate for successful bids is very high. It gives me great personal satisfaction that whilst the Mountfield name is synonymous with quality in the data centre build and refurbishment sector our expertise and ability to complete high quality work on time and within budget has led to an increasing number of enquiries for us to undertake certain specialist works in a limited number of high margin, value added sectors in addition to the data centre and IT sector. The IT space will remain core to Group activities in future however, we can also see certain specialist works significantly contributing to both Group revenues and profitability going forward. Our half year results will be published in September at which time we expect to be in a position to update the market on additional progress for the Group."
